

-- FROM THE PAWS OF BANJO ROBINSON - GLOBAL EXPLORER! --

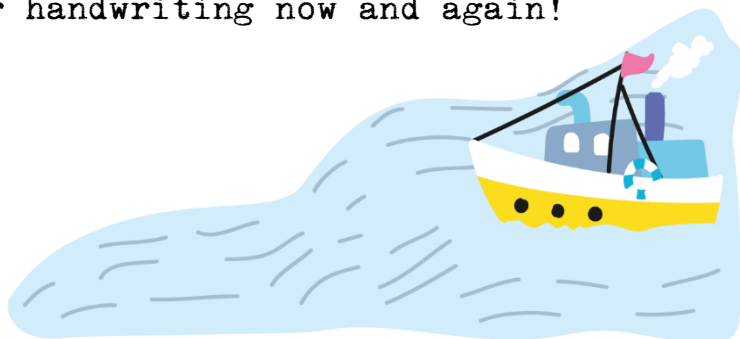

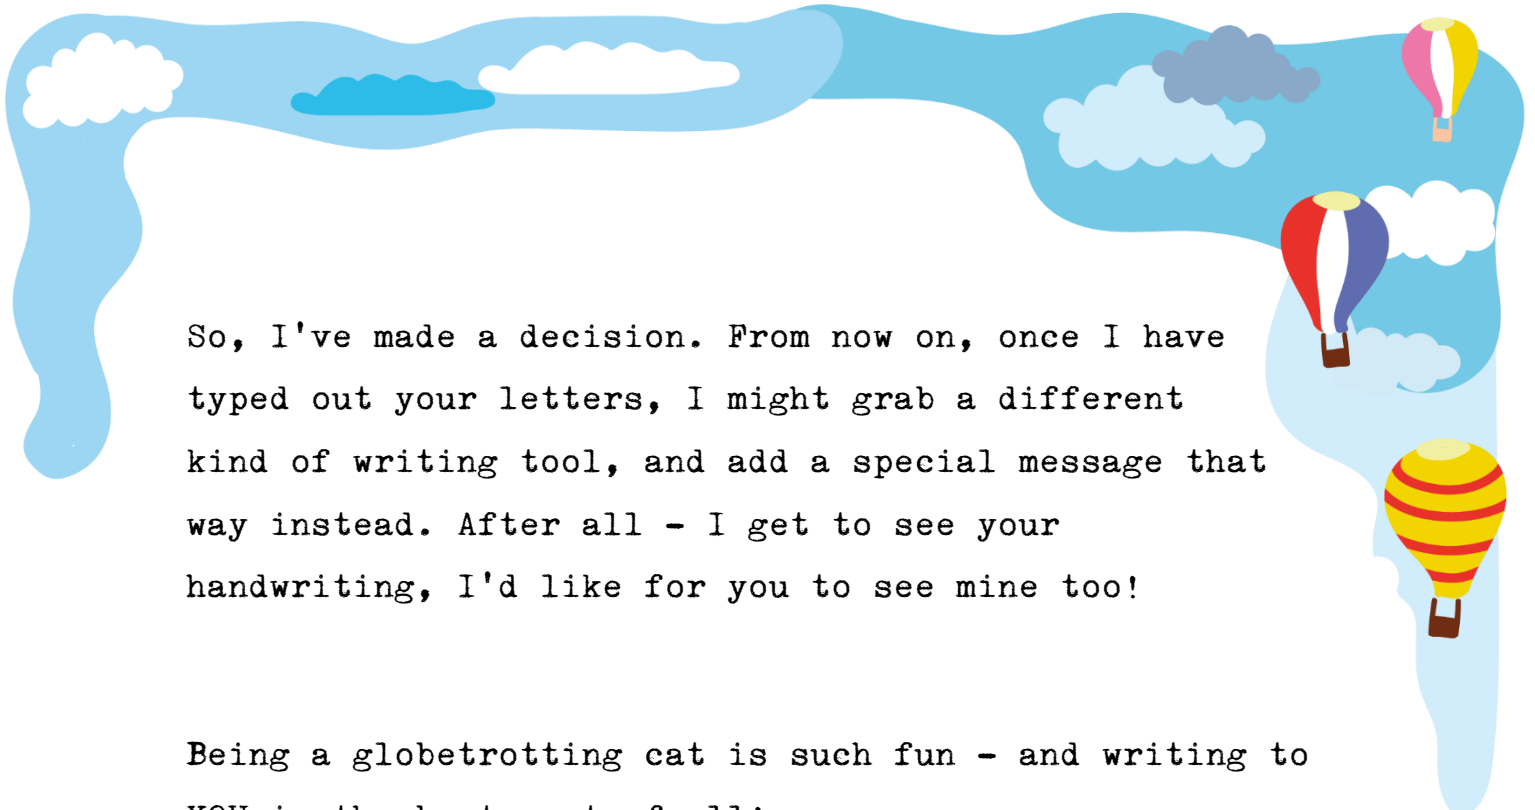

Hello, friend!

I love my little typewriter. At the end of a busy day adventuring, it's always a treat to take it out of my backpack, add a crisp sheet of paper and clickity-clack away at a letter to a faraway pal.

But, just occasionally, I think to myself... All this typing means I don't pick up a pencil or a pen very often. In fact, the last time I wrote a note by paw was... AGES AGO!

Using a keyboard can be speedy and useful (and it impresses the other animals)- but it's always good idea for us to practise our handwriting now and again!

So, I've made a decision. From now on, once I have typed out your letters, I might grab a different kind of writing tool, and add a special message that way instead. After all - I get to see your handwriting, I'd like for you to see mine too!

Being a globetrotting cat is such fun - and writing to YOU is the best part of all!

Sending a big cuddle,

BANJO ROBINSON
